Project aims

The Government appointed the project TOIMI, in aim to:

- raise activity and prevent inequality.
- prepare the reform, addressing the challenges posed by the transformation of work and technology
- support and inform political actors and parties on issues related to social security
 - the results of this project are to be utilised in negotiations after the next parliamentary elections, while forming a new government
- Project period is 28.9.2017 – 28.2.2019

Project TOIMI, intended results

- The project will provide system level alternative solutions and models for the reform
- The results of this work should include suggestions that
 - increase the level of employment
 - encourage employment and entrepreneurship
 - decrease inequality
 - give solutions to the changes ongoing in working life
 - give solutions to the changes ongoing in families and family structure
 - result in a simpler and more see-through system of benefits and services and
 - takes digitalisation into account

Reform: To be taken into account

- The limitations and conditions of public economy must be taken into account
- The results of basic income experience and other ongoing projects concerned with inclusion and benefits must be taken into account in project TOIMI, as well as the new possibilities of national income register

The administration is experimenting and renewed

- The project TOIMI is a new experimental way to act
- Representatives of parliamentary groups, labor market organizations, entrepreneurs, and key social and health organizations involved
- Cross-administrative, phenomenal case handling
- The aim of shared knowledge base and utilizing it in the work of the next government
