Besides the musical performances, once every hour you will hear talks and discussions on Finland's constitutional democracy and its history. Starting at 10.30, each discussion lasts for about 20 minutes.

During the morning, President Tarja Halonen, President of the Supreme Court Tatu Leppänen, Prime Minister Antti Rinne, Minister of Education Li Andersson and Minister of Social Affairs and Health Aino-Kaisa Pekonen will be having coffee and talking about the theme at the Market Square.

Those present in the afternoon include Professors Martti Häikiö, Kati Katajisto, Jukka Kekkonen, Laura Kolbe and Vesa Vares, Mikko Majander, Adjunct Professor of Political History, History Researcher Aleksi Mainio, and Matti Saarinen from the K.J. Ståhlberg Foundation.
